INFORMATION AND NEWS -

Knowledge is power

KEEPING MEMBERS INFORMED

CCF QLD understands our members' need to be kept informed and up-to-date on issues affecting the industry. We do this through a variety of channels including print, online, email and face-to-face. Through professional communications, we produce and deliver high quality publications and digital content directly to our members.

CCF QLD not only aims to keep its members informed and up to-date, but also relevant stakeholders including all levels of government, the media and other industry bodies.

Website

We use our website www.ccfqld.com to deliver information to stakeholders in a timely and efficient manner, allowing CCF QLD members and contacts to always be well-informed and updated on any issues or changes affecting the civil construction industry, and any other areas that could potentially affect our members'.

The information contained on the easy to navigate website includes news, events and resources relating to the civil construction industry, allowing our members to remain abreast of the ever changing conditions throughout the industry. A key feature of the CCF QLD website is the member portal which provides members access to exclusive member-only resources, information and offers.

Further directions on the website usage are included in the tools, resources, expertise and advice section of this Toolkit.
