Please provide a submission as to why this project is worth of the award by addressing EACH ONE of the following criteria in 750 words or less per point:

1. How has your project team* developed and provided effective and visible leadership, empowering all team members to have a voice – ensuring everyone owns the outcome and actively supports each other to achieve it?
2. How has your project team* built trust by communicating openly, honestly and transparently in a timely manner – even in challenging environments, situations and relationships?
3. How has your project team* encouraged and celebrated successful collaboration, sharing learnings with each other and industry, and applying them in future work?
4. How has your project team* listened to understand and appreciate different business models, drivers, roles, constraints, and ability to take on risk?
5. How has your project team* provided a safe space to challenge – where healthy challenge means maintaining respect, staying solutions focused and ensuring all feedback is listened to and acknowledged; helping each other and act reasonably to resolve any challenges together?
6. How has your project team* been flexible, open to change and able to compromise, with the understanding we need to be pragmatic?
7. How has your project team* been accountable for actions, following through on commitments and proactive in raising issues as early as possible?
8. How has your project team* actively pursued technological advancements, collected and shared data and embedded digital engineering to create common standards across the whole-of-life value chain?

Supporting material and/or examples should be supplied to assist in demonstrating claims to the above criteria. This submission must be no longer than 4000 words.
